YOUTH IN ACTION WORKSHOP MEET THE TRAINER

ALICE STOLLMAYER

Alice Stollmeyer is the Founder and Executive Director of Defend Democracy, an independent, non-partisan NGO defending democracy from foreign, domestic and technological threats.

Alice has a background in social studies of science, technology and society. A former energy policy adviser and digital strategist, she now works on democracy, sharp power (aka hybrid threats) and technology. A former Digital Advocacy Strategist, and Energy Policy Adviser, she now works on democracy, sharp power (aka hybrid threats) and technology. She has lived and worked in Paris, Amsterdam and Brussels and increasingly travels across Europe and beyond for her work.

In 2012, she founded her own consultancy StollmeyerEU, which specialises in EU public affairs, political communications and digital advocacy. She has been ranked a top digital EU influencer ever since (#1 female digital EU influencer 2019). Recently, the US government selected her for an International Visitor Leadership Program for her 'excellence and leadership'. She is in Politico's #Power40 top influencers who are most effectively setting the agenda in politics, public policy and advocacy in Brussels.

TEPSA is the first EU affairs research network, consisting of leading research institutes throughout Europe, with headquarters in Brussels. Since our founding in 1974, our network has provided policy-makers with the best policy analysis, assessment, and advice, and we continue to bridge the gap between research, policy-making, and citizens to this day. Our decentralised approach combines the strengths of our over 45 Member Institutes and enriches the results of their work.

Over the past year and a half, TEPSA has coordinated RADAR (Raising Awareness on Disinformation and Achieving Resilience), an EU-funded project (CERV Action grant), in collaboration with five other leading research institutes within the TEPSA network: Österreichische Gesellschaft für Europapolitik (ÖGFE), Istituto Affari Internazionali (IAI), the Finnish Institute of International Affairs (FIIA), Institut für Europäische Politik (IEP), and the Jagiellonian University.
