

GREECE-U.S. RELATIONS AND THE FUTURE OF TRANSATLANTIC COOPERATION

15 JANUARY 2026 (SEMINAR IN GREEK)

On Thursday 15 January 2026, the Hellenic Foundation for European and Foreign Policy (ELIAMEP), in collaboration with the Trans European Policy Studies Association (TEPSA), is pleased to invite you to a panel discussion on "Greece-U.S. relations and the future of transatlantic cooperation".

The event will take place from 19:00 at Demos Center of the American College of Greece (Ipitou 17b, Athens 105 57), in Greek.

The event will present the new volume "The United States and the Future of Europe: Views from the Capitals", with a particular focus on the Greek chapter, "From Myth to Reality: The Odyssey of U.S.–Greek Relations Finding Safe Harbour". Bringing together an expert academic panel, the discussion will explore how the book's central arguments regarding transatlantic relations, U.S. foreign policy, and Greece's strategic positioning, resonate within the rapidly evolving political landscape under the current U.S. administration. By revisiting the chapter's key insights alongside the significant developments that have unfolded since the manuscript was completed, the panel will offer an updated assessment of U.S.–Greek relations, the broader transatlantic partnership, and the implications for European security, diplomacy, and regional stability.
